Transdev Shares a Vision for the Future of Mobility at the UITP World Congress in Montreal

(May 8 – Montreal) Global leader in mobility operations, Transdev, is developing new mobility solutions and innovations based on expertise accumulated during decades of operating multiple forms of public transit across the world.

Our vision and strategy for the future is based on our belief that new modes for passengers and emerging technologies will combine so that future mobility will increasingly be:

Personalized
Autonomous
Connected
Electric

Transdev will present this vision and our mobility solutions and services for this new reality during the UITP Congress and at a Press Conference at the Esplanade of the Montreal Exhibition Center on Monday May 15 at 11.30 am. (The Esplanade is located at the Place Jean-Paul Riopelle outside of Hall Viger at the Palais des Congrès.) We will also be providing rides on our Transdev/EasyMile driverless shuttle during the UITP conference, on the schedule shown below.

Media Interviews: Transdev experts are available to speak about these themes during the UITP Conference.

This includes Thierry Mallet, Transdev Group CEO, Yann Leriche, Chief Performance Officer and head of our autonomous vehicle business lines, and Mark Joseph, CEO of Transdev Americas.

In addition, Transdev speakers will discuss the future of mobility as part of panel sessions taking place at UITP. Following is a list of Transdev's senior team who are speaking on panels at the conference. They are also available for interviews.
